Emergency Walk Skills

Rehearse exits when nothing is happening.

Owners need simple tools before a hard moment happens.

TRAINER NOTE

Stay below threshold. Distance and safety come before performance.

Best reward

Distance first

Your dog learns when they can notice and still think.

Soft leash

Create space early. Tension raises arousal.

Mark calm

Reward looking, sniffing, and disengaging.

1 Training goal

YOUR GOAL THIS WEEK

Practice emergency skills when nothing is happening, so your dog understands them when something is.

3 Step-by-step practice plan

In a quiet area, practice a U-turn: say “let’s go,” turn, and treat for following.

Practice treat scatter: toss treats on the ground and say “find it.”

Practice magnet hand: treat at your thigh, dog at your side for 5 steps.

Walk toward a pretend trigger, then exit early using your U-turn.

Log which skill felt easiest and which needs more reps.

5 Common mistakes to avoid

AVOID THESE

- Getting too close to triggers too fast.
- Practicing only on hard triggers.
- Trying new skills for the first time during a meltdown.

If this happens, try this

IF THIS HAPPENS, TRY THIS

World takes treats outside triggers.
 Handling before you make too close.
 Signs of difficulty. Contact Fitdog if safety is a concern.
