1 What success looks like

By the end of this lesson, the dog can hold a short stay in one position and understands when the exercise is finished.

2 Practice plan

1

Cue the position

Ask for sit, down, or stand in a quiet space.

2

Reward the hold

Feed while the dog is still successfully staying.

3

Release clearly

Use one release cue to tell the dog the exercise is finished.

4

Add one layer

Increase only duration, distance, or distraction - not all at once.

Stay and Release

6 Common mistakes and quick fixes

Common mistakes

- Walking away too early.
- Forgetting to release.
- Repeating the cue after the dog breaks.
- Adding duration, distance, and distraction together.

If this happens, try this

- If the dog breaks, shorten the stay and reward sooner.
- If the dog anticipates release, vary timing but keep reps easy.
- If owner movement is hard, practice one tiny step and return.

7 Ready to progress?

- ☐ My dog can hold short easy stays.
- ☐ I release clearly every time.
- ☐ I know the next fair difficulty level.
- ☐ My dog succeeds more often than they break.

HOMEWORK

Do five short stay reps each day.
Record the longest clean duration for sit, down, or stand.
