1 What success looks like

By the end of this lesson, the owner can predict likely potty times and guide the puppy outside often enough to create consistent success.

2 Practice plan

1

Take out often

Use predictable windows: after waking, after meals, after play, and after naps.

2

Stand still and wait

Keep potty breaks focused so your puppy finishes before exploring.

3

Mark and reward

Reward immediately after elimination so the picture stays clear.

4

Track the pattern

Write down successes, accidents, and how long your puppy can hold it.

Potty Training Without the Guesswork

6 Common mistakes and quick fixes

Common mistakes

- Giving free play outside before the puppy eliminates.
- Punishing accidents after the fact.
- Spacing potty trips too far apart.
- Waiting for the puppy to signal every time.

If this happens, try this

- If accidents repeat, tighten supervision and shorten the schedule.
- If the puppy stalls outside, stay boring and give them time before play.
- If nights are hard, add one calm overnight potty break.

7 Ready to progress?

- ☐ I know my puppy's main potty windows.
- ☐ I reward right after my puppy goes outside.
- ☐ I am keeping an accurate potty log.
- ☐ Indoor accidents are decreasing or easier to predict.

HOMEWORK

Track potty trips for five days. Circle the times of day when your puppy most often goes, then adjust your schedule around those patterns.
